1	Aniruddha Vaidya	I am deeply saddened by the loss of lives in the communal violence that has taken place in Gujarat. The politics of hate and bigotry is being promoted with the active endorsement of the present administration and deserves our condemnation in the highest possible terms.	Mountain View, California, USA
2	Hrishi Shinde		Dallas TX
3	Prashant Jawalikar		Fremont, CA, USA
4	Karuna Muthiah		Bay Area, CA
5	Om P Damani		Cambridge MA
6	Rajesh Veeraraghavan	I just don't understand why people kill each other in the name of "religion" and more importantly how the state just watches on..	Saratoga, California
7	Caesar Sengupta	The Government has the duty to protect all its citizens and uphold the constitution. The present government has completely failed to do so and should be taken to task for this failure.
8	Neerja Bhatt		Mountain View, CA
9	Manjiri	Much more should have been done to protect the people. In the final count, everyone is a human being!
10	Akhila Raman		Berkeley, CA. USA.
11	Shalini Gera	The Gujarat Government has deliberately withheld assistance from a large section of its population and deprived them of their rights to life and property. The NHRC must see to it that the victims of the riots receive fair and just compensation, and that the government fulfills its duty in expediting rehabilitation efforts.	San Jose, CA, USA
12	Dharma Tejus	This shouldn't have happened. Now that it has happened, at least we, as a society, should be able to make amends and ensure a saner future.	Santa Clara, CA
13	Gautam Desai	We couldn't save those innocent from dying. Let's resolve our belated advocacy helps survivors of the terror to rebuild their lives and the secular forces to regroup the society on purely humanitarian grounds.
14	Prof I. K. Shukla		California
15	Ashish Chadha		Stanford, CA
16	SATNAM SINGH CHAHAL		MILPITAS CA 95035 U.S.A
17	Girish Agrawal	The cadres of the Sangh Parivaar (the VHP/RSS/BJP combine) must be stopped before they destroy India. It is the moral duty of every sane human being, especially Hindus, to work towards the removal of the 'Hindutava' blot from this planet. Oppose this hydra-headed monster whenever and in whatever form it shows up--whether calling itself the World Hindu Council of America (VHPA) or the Hindu Students Council or something else. It will be a long and bitter fight, but this is one 'war' that has to be fought now, before the ethnic cleansing and the pogroms orchestrated by the Saffron Brigade ignite a holocaust.	Stanford, CA

61	Zahid Hussain
62	Ruquia Mona Ahmed		Virginia, USA
63	Abdul Quadir	I feel shame to be called an Indian after seeing all this what is happening to our country. The whole country has been highjacked by the bad people. I condemn for every act of supporting the violence by the Government of India and Gujrat.Saying few good words by Modi,George and Advani is not enough. They are lier. They are used to drink the innocents blood. They can not live without drinking the innocents blood.	Houston,TX

72	Sohaib Khan, Ph.D.	Give India back its secular character!	Cincinnati, OH, USA
73	Thomas Hirata	The US media have reported the Sabarmati Express passengers as "Hindu activists," as though they were followers of Mohandas Gandhi. These "activists" were anti-Muslim, fundamentalist Hindus and should be labelled as such. Instead, the US media imply that the Godhra Muslims acted without provocation. This is akin to the characterization of Afghans and Pakistanis predominantly as militant Muslims, which fuels the animosity against Afghanistan and the Islamic world. The US gov't & media, and the global community must act to hold all accountable for the violence in Gujarat.	Voorhees, NJ

It is time that the Government of India be held accountable for state-sponsored atrocities against religious minorities, lower castes, and women. By state sponsored violations, I also mean state neglect of the same violations.	Riverside, CA
96	Faiyaz Shahpurwala
97	Arun Kumar	I am extremely saddened and troubled by what has happened in Gujrat. Once again we have failed to protect the life and property of our people, and especially of the minorities. This must never happen again. Those people who are found to have had a hand in this, especially those that hold political or law-and-order responsibilities, must be charged and tried.	Cary, NC, USA

114	Dr. G. Agrawal	I cannot do better than quote Shashi Tharoor: "Hindu 'fundamentalists' ... root their Hinduism not in any of its soaring philosophical or spiritual underpinnings - and, unlike their Islamic counterparts, not in the theology of their faith - but in its role as a source of identity. They seek revenge in the name of Hinduism as badge, rather than of Hinduism as doctrine. IN DOING SO THEY ARE PROFOUNDLY DISLOYAL TO THE RELIGION THEY CLAIM TO ESPOUSE [emphasis mine], ... The true Hindu seeks no revenge upon history, for he understands that history is its own revenge."	Pleasanton, California

185	Pritam Singh	Had the mass killers of the Sikhs in 1984 in Delhi and other North Indian towns been given exemplary punishments, that would have left a powerful image on the public memory of the country and that would have acted as a deterrent to those criminal gangs who indulged in killings of the Muslims in 2002 in Gujarat.	Oxford, UK
186	Laura Hein
187	Subuhi M. Jiwani	Mr. President: I simply wish to express my deep grief and sadness at the current state of minority persecution in Gujarat that the State government has witnessed without much action. I hope that India will be re-imagined through the eyes of Mahatma Gandhi, Maulana Azad and Jawaharlal Nehru. "India is my country. All Indians are my brothers and sisters." These lines begin the pledge on the first page of every textbook for a reason, Mr. President. Kindly bring secularism out of its hibernation.	New York, NY

232	deepak gupta	the shear senselessness of these events numbs the mind, stuns the heart. but these are certainly no isolated incidents. just a preview of times to come if the fanatical elements amongst us are allowed to flower as they have been. mr president, mr prime minister if we do not show the courage to stand up to the communal forces that are being fostered for political expediency, truly there is no one but us that we can hold responsible when the chickens come home to roost. mr prime minister, i have in the past many years come to deeply love many aspects of our spiritual heritage, and revere many of our saints. however, this communal hatred and aggression that you have permitted on our soil has nothing nothing to do with hinduism, or our spiritual heritage. please wake up. take decisive steps when you can. show strong leadership that moves, inspires, unites the nation once again.	berkeley, ca

The good and sincere elements of the country are ineffective. By their policies and plan they think that India as a nation and country will progress and make a distinguished position in the world and history, But human history proves them wrong. Their actions if continued will be great undoing for India. The creator of the Universe, one believes or not, is the its absolute Ruler. Every nation gets its time. Ultimately the tyrants, the unjust nations are punished and go into oblivion. So every Indian who wants to be sincere to his country and to his self must do some thing to stop this.	Chennai, India

1060	Sanjeev Batra	Being a Hindu and living in Ahmedabad, the past fortnight has made me angry at being manipulated and slotted with rascals and hooligans who also call themselves Hindus and Ram Bhakts and kill and burn in the name of the most pious and just God of the Hindu Pantheon. I feel that condemning the violence from the comforts of our own houses will make the movement towards secularism a disjointed and individualistic movement. If the enemy of secularism is strong and a meticulous planner we also need to gather together and form smaller groups that will try to cleanse this poison from our residential colonies. We need to talk to our children who are confused at seeing their parents shy away from taking a stand out in the open and who in "hindu" group meeting confabulate at the damage in a "dispassionate" manner almost feeling remotely discontnted to the community that has taken the brunt of this frenzy. There has to be multifold efforts in this direction and why not one of them be that muslims themselves try and find a better way in dealing with such kind a situations...it may be their political strengthening, increasing their share in the police or other government orgs. Indian muslims have to really sit down and work out some long term feasible strategy for their safeguard other than/ in addition to jusut relying on other political parties or Human Rights Commissions etc. There are always activities and efforts generated when the issues are hot and the wounds are realised but gradually disappears. lets pledge to make some consistant steady efforts in this direction and pray to Allah for the best safeguard of our brothers and sisters out there.. 1207	Babu Raj	I think VHP members are not real Hindu believers. A real Hindu believer should love other religion followers like Hindu members. India has only one country with many religions and making hatred and killing other than Hindu is not permitted in any book of Hinduism which I gone through (Veda, puran, Gheedah, etc.). I think VHP stands for VERY HIGH PAGAL (mad) who initiated the barbaric job taking a young lady by force to the train in Ghodra which public put fire when the karsevak started beating the public by bamboo stick that used for the karseva banner. I understand that Hindu also included in the public who put the fire on the train. If the incident was happened to the sister who (VHP member) took the lady to the compartment G6 then what would be their feelings. Seeing the response from VHP, I conclude there is no real Hindu believer in VHP, RSS & BJP. If SIMI is banned in India then VHP, RSS & Bajrangdal, and other militant group should be banned soon. 1211	Rehan Zaidi	I hope this petition will go some way towards shaking us out of our collective amnesia which befalls us every time such despicable and inhumane incidents as the one in Gujarat occur. Words can only offer cold comfort which is too late and too little for the hundreds who lost their lives in Gujarat. Only immediate action can prevent such barbaric incidents from being repeated. The Narendra Modi government must go, resignation is the alternative for people who are conscious of their duty and failure to undertake it. Modi and his louts are brazen extremists who deny reality. He must be sacked and tried for murder. If the government is sincere in establishing communal harmony, it should give equal compensation to members of both communities. Additional healing measures include immediate rehabilitation of thousands of muslims stranded in refugee camps, safe housing and healthcare. Long term measures should be launched by teaching secular ideals in schools, which were so dear to the father of our nation- Mahatma Gandhi.

My biggest worry is that in a country where our per capita income isn't sufficient for the survival of the people for one month, we are killing people not only in Gujarat, but also at the states like Orissa, UP, Bihar where people don't have the fresh water to drink leave alone other amenities. The national income (which is peanuts for the country)is being spent on the riot control, rehabilitation work. The economy will be in bad shape and we will all have the begging bowls in our hands. So what??? our egos would be polished and our Gods would be happy that we did so much blood bath for HIM though HE never taught us this. All the best India.	New Delhi

1725	Hussain	We are shamefull that an entire state government as a whole was against a minority community that was innocent. We strongly, strongly and strongly condemn the events of Godhra. The government shold investigate into the matter why the people in that area went mad. Damn that Gujarat CM. How come a person like him can become a "Newton" all of a sudden?. What would he answer if the minorities revenge back?. Will he say the same words or what?. Will he be the same "bast..d Newton" again?. That's why India as a whole is like this. Otherwise it would have been in a better position. We used to argue with people who talks against India. But this time we didn't have a solid point to answer them all because of that "god damn Newton" policy and the behaviour of the central government. Now we won't argue against any persons who talks against India. May God curse those people who did such a burnt out of innocent people and those who supported them.	USA
1726	Mohammed Javeed Ali Khan	All hardcore Hindu Fundamentalists should be banned, government should be fair to both communities and stop giving step motherly treatment to muslims in INDIA. We Indian muslims strongly condemn such acts,Is this what Hindu religion teaches. How can the International community stand by and watch innocent women raped and burned. The disregard for Muslim blood, viewing their blood as cheap and disposable, breeds the type of wrath and frustration that manifests itself in groups like al-qaeda. If the international community wishes to avoid this it would do well to examine its assumptions concerning the cheapness of Muslim blood.Stop terrorism and help India prosper economically by banning the hard line TERRORIST ORGANISATION such as RSS, Bajrang Dal, and VHP. Minorities Particularly Muslims have lost Confidence In GUJRAT GOVT, So please for Democracy's sake Take action & Sack the modi Government and restore confidence in MUSLIMS.	London.

If guilty of Delhi killings were punished by legal system(Indian Gov.), then what happened in Gujarat could have been avoided. VHP, Bagrang Dal, and Shiv Sena must be banned to protect secular India. Saheed Bhagat Singh, Saheed Uddam Singh, Saheed Kartar Singh Srabha did not make sacrifice for this kind of India. Mahatama Gandhi ji's soul must be crying today. Sabarmati express train fire responsible must be punish by law--not by burning innocent Indian Muslims. Since when is message of Marayada Pursh Ram ji became burning people alive? 2192	Nadir Aziz	The Gujarat incidents bring to mind the carnage and mayhem of the Dec/Jan riots in 92/93. When they came for the Sikhs, I was quiet, because I was not one of them. When they came for the Christians, I was quiet, because I was not one of them. When they came for the Muslims, I was quiet, because I was not one of them. But when they came for me, there was no one to speak up!!!" 2500	Pramod Joshi	The entire series of events should force all humans to do some serious introspection, whatever their religion, nationality, colour, gender or political affiliation. The silent majority in this world goes about living life peacefully, focusing on earning a decent living and sharing love with their family and friends. The angry, hateful minority of weapon-wielding, power-hungry hoodlums (Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs and Christians will all recognize such people in their own communities) takes law into their hands. Should we not withdraw support to such fanatics all around us and nip their hateful thoughts in their buds? These events make India no less secular than before, for the average Indian still respects the law of the land and abides by it. The dismal failure of the government in protecting all life and property is certainly punishable, but let us not further a divide among the silent majority on grounds of religion. Condemn violence perpetrated by anybody; selective silence or protest is also non-secular!	India

2505	Shaiq Ali Khan	The violence which took place in Gujrat was akin to systematic religious/ethnic cleansing that took place in Bosnia. The unique thing about Gujrat violence was that first time in India rioting took place in remote and rural areas. This new dimension of religious frenzy should worry every Indian as it is apparent that things were allowed to come to such a pass where even rural areas which, as compared to urban areas have more social bindings, there was rioting and looting. For this the state government is to be squarely blamed.	NRI

2561	Seyed Ahamed	I strongly condemn the riotic act of sabarmati express and Gujarat riot incidents. I was left in dilemma that the Gujarat govt. pre knew that minority muslims are under hazard after the sabarmati express incident, inspite of that, the Govt. failed to beef up the security and give reasonable protection to the minorites leading the death toll more than 500 and damaging belongings. 2640	Amardeep Singh	It is a shame that a so-called democracy allows genocidal murderers from the VHP/World Hindu Council/RSS/Bajrang Dal etc. to roam freely in society to kill some more. If these same fanatics had a different religious affiliation, they would not only be arrested, they would probably be tortured or dead by now. We know this to be true because of the experience in Punjab, Kashmir and Nagaland. Secularism only exists on paper in India. Lastly, I have no faith in India's toothless Human Rights Commission. I was left in dilemma that the Gujarat govt. pre knew that minority muslims are under hazard after the sabarmati express incident, inspite of that, the Govt. failed to beef up the security and give reasonable protection to the minorites leading the death toll more than 500 and damaging belongings. 2672	sujatha rangaswami	State sanctioned terrorism is the most terrifying form of terrorism - for once the state turns terrorist , we have no choice but to become victims or refugees or freedom fighters ! To escape this fate lets work towards an acceptance of certain ground rules nationally - human life and dignity will never be endangered or compromised whatever our differences ! To ensure this we will always work through democratic institutions to resolve issues where conflicting opinions exist. Moreover the state's first and foremost duty shall be to serve and protect the universal human rights of every indian .

2876	Lesley A. Esteves	Gujarat happened because we allowed these khaki-clad killers to obtain a measure of respectability. We did this by permitting the debate to fall to whether the RSS is political or cultural, whether Vajpayee is the 'liberal' mask of a communal party, whether a 'shila daan' is more acceptable than a 'bhoomi puja' and whether 'Marxist' historians had their turn at distorting history. This is the effectiveness of the Sangh's propaganda, that they are able to deflect the debate to questions that assume they have a point. Responsible for Gujarat are the political Opposition, who have the mandate to oppose but have failed to do so. Thirdly, our national press which sanctifies such low-level debates with their gleeful, ever-mediocre participation. Most importantly - Chandrababu Naidu, George Fernandes and Mamta Banerjee, whom no-one would have accused of putting the blood of innocents above their ambitions, today sweep the bodies of the Sangh's victims under the royal red carpets of their privileges. 3011	John Britto	India should put an end to all sorts of religious atrocities and communal riots. No religion wants these kind of brutal actions. There is no point in calling ourselves as Indians, when there is no peace, understanding and security within us. In millennium when every county looking forward for peace, we are going behind with these brutalities. Religion is required to build humanitarian NOT political parties. Why must any self-respecting government side any group, be it majority or minority. Isn't a government's job to ensure peace, order & harmony amongst its people?? Why isnt swift action taken by the authorities to save the hundreds of innocent lives, women n children; be them Muslim or non-Muslims. Such waste of human lives and property is sheer stupidity. Especially when no appropriate and swift action is taken to stop the violent terrorism. My sincere prayer is for Indians both Hindus and Muslims unite and learn to live in peace, understanding, respect n tolerance. My condolences to all parties perished in this unfortunate tragedy. 3273	NAVEED AHMED	God save our country, the land of SANATANA DHARMA. All these so called upholders (right wing) of any of the religions are just a miniscule of the fringe elements in their entire respective communities. The predominant peace loving and highly secular populace must NOT allow these fringe elements to hijack them. It is UNFORTUNATE for this whole region (SAARC / SAFTA), which spends a large chunk of its GDP in war mongering, hatred, rhetorics and posturing. Politicians here would NEVER stop blaming ISI even if their dogs catch cold and Musharaff blaming RAW (Indian Agencies) if his cat catches fever. When the whole world around us (look at EURO, ASEAN, NAFTA) is striving towards growth and development, we keep finding excuses and reasons to divert the attention of people from our own failures and mismanagement. Such is the hatred, prejudice, cynicism and malice we nurture towards each other. Despite the end of the cold war, we are living in a FROZEN region.	Mysore, Karnataka

I refuse to accept that any creature capable of these acts (this includes both the creatures who set fire to the train burning innocent hindus and creatures who unleashed the reign of terror on innocent muslims), qualifies to be called a human. You can't justify throwing people in the fire ALIVE and then throwing them back in there when they run out. YOU can't JUSTIFY no matter what to raping tons of young INNOCENT girls in FRONT of their helpless fathers and Mothers!!! These actions are terrorism and if America can "FIGHT" their war against terrorism in Afghanistan, then we can certainly fight a war against terrorism in India! I am ashamed of mera baharat. I was born in India, and totally ashtonished that the POLICE is also ENCOURAGING these "CRIMINAL, TERRORISTS" ACTIONS. Therefore, I urge you to help these people who are truly helpless, and innocent. 3943	Mohammad Suhaib Riaz	This petition is extremely important to build a momentum of support and ensure that steps are taken for long lasting peace. Several similar campaigns can later be collated and used to highlight the relevant issues. An important preventive step is banning the organizations responsible, and targeting individuals such as as Narendra Modi to be tried in International Criminal Courts for their Crimes Against Humanity. This will deter all from taking such steps in future. It is precisely because no lobbying has been done by right minded people to highlight the crimes of such 'leaders' that they are able to fearlessly persecute minorities in India.

The Taliban destroyed Buddha's statues and we destroyed Babri Masjid. Fundamentalists, be they Hindu or Muslim are influenced by the same twisted beliefs, and the government's failure to bring them to justice means that it has the blood of innocents on its hands.
